A Note From Mr. Krause

The first month of the school year has come and gone, and it has been a busy one! The students are settling in to routines and we have already done so much learning. The first quarter will be coming to a close the end of this month, and that means Parent/Teacher Conferences Time. Like last year, please sign up through Skyward for a conference time. More information will be coming home regarding that. As always, please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.
